FATHER GOING AFTER STAGE-STRUCK GIRL

Thinking She Was Destined to be Great Actress, Miss Bew Ran Away From Home.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 12.—Believing that she was destined to become a great actress, Miss Maryland Bew, the seven-year-old daughter of J. P. Bew, of West Point, Va., ran away from her home last evening and took the York River boat for Baltimore. This morning when the steamer arrived detectives were waiting, and as Miss Bew, who had registered on the boat as Miss Hazel, stepped on the gang plank the detectives took her in charge.

"What made you run away from your home?" the young lady was asked, as she sat in the matron's room at the police station this morning.

"Well, I thought I could get an engagement here to go on the stage and be an actress. Of course, my parents wouldn't let me leave home, and what I got a letter from Baltimore I just thought I would start out."

"Then the pretty young runaway related the story that has grown out of the telling, who had taken part in amateur theatricals in the Virginia town where her parents lived, and where she was a pupil of the West Point Seminary. Her acting in these little affairs had been complimented. She began to take an interest in the theatrical world. Pictures of famous actresses and accounts of their triumphs fascinated her. She knew some people who resided in Govaus, and she got a letter inviting her to visit them. Her parents knew nothing of the letter, and fearing they would not consent to her coming to Baltimore, she ran away. Her father is coming after her."

M., Friday.

Enjoyed the Minstrels.

John W. Vogel's Minstrels, though not as large as some of the other organizations, gave two performances here yesterday that were quite pleasing. The first part was not so handsome in its setting, but in vocal numbers and comedy work it was up to the average. Fred Russell, on one of the ends, had the knack of knowing how to get off his jokes in a manner that made them most effective, and he even made the oldest stuff bring a laugh. It's all in the way one tells it, and he knew how. Russell's song, "That's a Habit I Never Had," struck the audience just right. It is one of those songs on the order of "Please Go Away and Let Me Sleep" and "I'm Tired." John Cartwright, who was on the opposite end, sang and danced well, and some of his stunts caused the gallery to shout. Bowen, however, did the real dancing. He is another Doc, Quigley, though his legs are not put together quite as loosely as Quigley's.

The olio contained several clever numbers. The Walsey Family, billed as the "Death Defying Acrobatic Marvels," did a sensational act.

Mr. Perryman's Call.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) LYNCHBURG, Va., Nov. 12.—A special meeting of the Montgomery Presbytery has been called to meet here on Tuesday for the purpose of considering the application of Rev. A. N. Perryman, pastor of White Rock Hill Presbyterian Church, of this city, to be permitted to accept the call to the pastorate of a congregation in Western North Carolina.

Mr. Brander Celebrates.

Visiting Dr. Carrington.

Rev. A. B. Carrington, of Greenwich, Va., is visiting his son, Dr. Charles V. Carrington, of this city.

WHAT THE MINISTER SAYS

is Most Convincing. "I thought I would write you what Pyramid Pike Cure has done for me. I had a most serious case of bleeding piles; indeed, I dreaded when I had to go to stool. One fifty-cent box cured me. I feel like a new man. I have recommended it to others as being the most wonderful remedy known. It is indeed a great blessing to suffering humanity. You are at liberty to use this for all it is worth, and I hope it may do good."—Rev. W. L. Carr, 365 N. Hollbrook St., Danville, Va.

Clerymen (like all professional men who lead sedentary lives) are especially addicted to piles, in various forms, and are continually on the lookout for a remedy which will give relief, with little or no idea of obtaining a cure. Recognizing this fact, Rev. Mr. Carr consents to the use of his name, in order that other sufferers may know there is a cure called Pyramid Pike Cure, which is sold by druggists everywhere for the low price of fifty cents a package, and which, with being about for every one, is added with pills the same beneficial results as in his own case. Be careful to accept no substitutes, and remember that there is no remedy "just as good."

A little book describing the cause and cure of piles is published by Pyramid Drug Co., Marshall Mich., and will be sent free for the asking. All sufferers are advised to write for it, as it contains valuable information on the subject of piles.

WRECK OF SCHOONER ASHORE NEAR BONDS

Investigation Will be Made to Determine Responsibility for the Accident.

(By Associated Press.) ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., November 12.—The wreck of the lumber schooner Wilson and Hunting, of Norfolk, Va., which was in collision with the United States supply ship Culgoa, off Barnegat Light, is ashore near the Bonds Life Saving Station. The lumber schooner North America has left Delaware Breakwater for Bonds Station.

Official Investigation.

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, November 12.—Rear-Admiral Coghlan, commanding the New York navy-yard, has made a brief report to the Navy Department regarding the collision of the United States supply ship Culgoa with the lumber schooner Wilson and Hunting, of Norfolk, off Barnegat Light. The naval vessel sustained no material damage, but the schooner was completely disabled. Four members of the crew of the latter were rescued by the Culgoa, but the mate, Captain Walton and his wife and two seamen who were aboard the schooner at the time, have not been accounted for.

The rescued seamen were taken to New York, and the Culgoa was immediately dispatched in search of the wreck, supposed to be drifting towards the Delaware breakwater with a view of towing it to a place of safety and making a still further search for the missing members of the crew. An official investigation of the accident will be made at once to determine the responsibility, if any, of the officers of the Culgoa.

Mr. W. H. Harp, a well known commercial man, representing Gallagher and Burton, makers of the Black Label, of Philadelphia, is in the city at Maryland City of Music on the night of December 26th, the proceeds of which will go to the fund of the Elks' Rest, in Hollywood. Members of the lodge are requested to call at the home for their tickets next Wednesday night. Mr. Field is a prominent Elk and a member of the Grand Lodge.

SLIPPED ON STEPS IN HIS RESIDENCE

Accurate Account of How Mr. Lyons Received His Fatal Hurt.

FUNERAL SERVICES TO-DAY

Remains Will Reach Here This Morning—Interment in Hollywood.

A letter received yesterday by the family of the late William H. Lyons, gives the exact information as to the circumstances of his death. It now seems that the accounts already given of this occurrence were only partially correct, the information not being directly received from those who were with Mr. Lyons when the accident happened. Miss Perryman, at whose house Mr. Lyons had been for several years, wrote a letter to Miss Lyons on Friday morning, in which she says that between 10 and 11 on Thursday evening Mr. Lyons returned, and on going to his room slipped and fell, receiving a severe scalp wound. Though the fall was only half a flight, Dr. Collier, who was in the hall at the time, went to Mr. Lyons, who rose without assistance, and, upon Dr. Collier's suggestion, walked a square to a private hospital, where his wound was dressed. No grave consequences were anticipated, as the skull was not fractured. Later in the night Mr. Lyons became delirious, and then lapsed into unconsciousness, from which he never recovered, dying later in the day on Friday. The terrible suddenness of this accident is brought out by the fact that Mr. Lyons wrote to his sister in Richmond on the day of his death, and must have posted the letter, from his home, from his office, as it is postmarked 12:30 A. M., two hours after his fall occurred.

Another Account.

The New York Times of yesterday gave the subjoined account of the accident: "William H. Lyons, a lawyer, thirty-five years old, at 170 Broadway, who died at 22 West Thirtieth Street, died yesterday afternoon at the private hospital of Dr. Samuel McCullagh, at 68 West Thirtieth Street, from injuries received by a fall at his residence on Thursday evening."

"Mr. Lyons reached his home about 10:30 o'clock Thursday, and in ascending the stairs to his bed room lost his footing and fell to the marble floor of the hall. At the hospital an examination indicated that Mr. Lyons had suffered a injury in the base of the brain. He fell into profound coma, from which he never woke."

"Mr. Lyons was a native of Richmond, Va., and was the son of Judge William H. Lyons, a distinguished lawyer of this city. He was graduated from the University of Virginia in 1889, and shortly thereafter came to New York."

"He was for several years associated with the law firm of Davies, Stone & Auerbach, and for the past four years had been associated with the firm of Weeks, Battle & Marshall."

"His body will be taken to Richmond for interment."

SAY IT WAS MONEY THAT BEAT WYSON

Democrats Believe Their Gallant Leader the Victim of Slush Fund.

There is a great deal of speculation as well as a feeling of widespread regret among the Democrats of Virginia concerning the almost brutal defeat of Hon. Joseph C. Wyson for Congress in the Ninth District by Colonel Campbell Stemm, but those who ought to be familiar with the situation are clearly of opinion that money had more to do with the result than any other one cause.

Said one gentleman, who is himself a Democratic voter in the district: "The Republicans were openly offering as much as $20 a vote in my county. Our people had no money, and if they could have gotten it, they dared not spend it under the Barkdale law."

It has been suggested that Mr. Wyson was killed because of the alleged unpopularity of proclaiming the Constitution, but as a matter of fact he bitterly fought proclamation and is upon record as having said on the floor that he would despise any organic law, however old, which was not approved by the people of the State.

TRIED TO DESERT.

Daring Attempt of Sailors to Leave a British Steamer.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) WILMINGTON, N. C., Nov. 12.—Some excitement was caused along the water front yesterday when two seamen made a most daring attempt to escape from the large British steamer Anglo-Canadian, as she cast off her lines and drifted out in the stream, preparatory to sailing for Liverpool with her cargo of cotton. One of the sailors made a long leap from the rail of the ship to a sled along the dock. He was only slightly bruised. The other fellow waited until the ship got out into midriver before he took his dash for the bow of the boat, which stood thirty feet above the water. Had he not been a strong swimmer he would not have reached shore. The deserters were arrested and returned to the vessel before the steamer had proceeded to sea. The same two sailors tried to desert as soon as the ship arrived in port two weeks ago, and it was necessary to keep them locked up in the city prison while the ship was in port. They were returned to the vessel this morning shortly before the sailing hour.

The British steamer Anglo-Canadian, sailing to-day for Liverpool, carried the largest and most valuable cargo of cotton of the season from this port. The cargo consisted of 15,783 bales, valued at $490,000. Up to the present time the port receipts of cotton since September 1st reach nearly 200,000 bales. Nearly all of the receipts so far have been exported.

DR. LEFEW BARELY ALIVE

Fishburne Ready to Give Himself Up When He Dies.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) ROANOKE, Va., Nov. 12.—Dr. Frederick Lefew's condition is about the same as last night. His death is expected at any time. At 11 o'clock it was reported from the Lefew home that he was barely alive. While the watchers at the bed of the dying physician are looking for the end, Mr. Charles R. Fishburne, who stabbed him, is in the jailer's room, waiting to give himself up when death comes. Last night, when it was reported that Dr. Lefew would die, Mr. Fishburne went to the jail and remained until midnight.

Ill With Typhoid Fever.

Harry Catlin, the seventeen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tucker, is seriously ill with typhoid fever at the home of his parents, in the West End.
